If you want to re-order the slides, just drag the slide tab to the left or right, before or after another slide tab.

\section*{(3.4.) Slide Preview Area and Elements (text and images)}

In the preview area you can add and position the elements. To add an element, click on the yellow button under the preview area. You have to position the element to it's final position (the position that will take after the IN ANIMATION) just by dragging it around. If you click on an element, it will be selected (a black border will appear) and it's settings will be displayed under the preview area.

\section*{(3.5.) Insert a Slider into a Page or a Post}

There are 2 ways to insert Crelly Slider into a page / post.
- The first (and the easiest) is to use a shortcode. The plugin will automatically generate a shortcode that you can find in the the slider settings tab. Just copy and paste it into a post or a page, like this:

```

Edit Page AddNew

Home
Permalink: http://localhost/crelly-slider/ View Page

Blah Blah Blah
[crellyslider alias="home_slider"]
[cta title="Crelly Slider is Free, Responsive and Easy to Use. What are you waiting for?"]
[btn style="flat-o"]Download Crelly Slider [/btn]
[/cta]

The second method is using a php function. Write <? php if(function_exists(‘crellySlider’)) crellySlider(‘your_slider_alias’); ? >. Put the function wherever you want in a theme php file (e.g. index.php).
